CODE OF PRACTICE ON DISINFORMATION

The European Commission has endorsed integrating the voluntary Code of Practice (CoP) on Disinformation into the Digital Services Act (DSA), making it a key compliance benchmark for platforms.

JUNIOR INVESTIGATION CLASS

CLEMI (DE FACTO) expands its Junior Investigation Class series with a new scenario: "Explosion at the Factory"! Students take on the role of investigative journalists, using various sources, they must gather information, analyse the facts, and create their report.

FREE ONLINE RESOURCES

The Club of Ugly Children is a film and game, part of the BELUX repository of free educational resources, designed for children (7-12 years). It explores life under a dictatorship where fake news is widespread, following Paul as he resists dictator Isimo, teaching students about propaganda, critical thinking, and fighting misinformation.

THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE MEASURES IS LIMITED, ESPECIALLY DURING ELECTION CAMPAIGNS, PROBABLY BECAUSE THE PLATFORMS' EFFORTS SEEM TO BE BASED ON STRUCTURAL PROBLEMS

Jouw checklist bij misleidende informatie

BENEDMO supports the renewed EDUbox Fake News, an interactive tool by VRT that helps students in Flanders and the Netherlands recognise disinformation. It includes practical exercises, videos, and assignments to teach media literacy and critical thinking. BENEDMO contributed expertise to strengthen the content, highlighting the need for cross-border efforts against fake news. The EDUbox is free and accessible for schools, promoting awareness and resilience among youth.
